The Breath of Life

"Give praise to the Lord, proclaim his name; make known among the nations what he has done. Sing to him, sing praise to him; tell of all his wonderful acts. Glory in his holy name; let the hearts of those who seek the Lord rejoice. Look to the Lord and his strength; seek his face always. Remember the wonders he has done, his miracles, and the judgments he pronounced, you his servants, the descendants of Israel, his chosen ones, the children of Jacob. He is the Lord our God; his judgments are in all the earth."

Ditch the Snow for Sun and Sea

(NAPS)—As an increasing number of people have discovered: for delightful holidays, just add water. The warm waters in and around Florida, Texas and California, that is, whether on a lake, bay or ocean.

Boatsetter is the leading mobile app for boat rentals, charters, and on-water experiences, making it easier to have fun with family and friends by spending the season at sea.

Just imagine—using Boatsetter to host Friendsgiving onboard, be part of a lighted boat parade, or secure the best view for New Year's Eve fireworks.

For a fun, affordable way to create holiday magic on the water, consider renting a boat.

With more than 50,000 boats in over 700 global locations, the company makes getting on the water as easy as calling a rideshare. With no sign-up fees or membership dues, its easy-to-use app and simplified booking process lets anyone—with or without prior boating experience—browse, book, and go.

As Michael Farb, Boatsetter CEO, put it, "The holiday season is about spending quality time with loved ones, and what better way to do that than on a boat?"

Sample Sailings

A pontoon party where you can take in unparalleled views of dolphins, sea turtles, and manatees.

A day of offshore fishing and cruising.

A luxury sailing experience on board the aptly named "Serenity" sailboat. Learn to sail or just relax under the careful watch of a U.S. Coast Guard-certified captain.

A two-day overnight charter for the extended family in Turks and Caicos. Escape to a private beach of your choosing on board a luxury yacht complete with crew.

By connecting qualified renters directly to boat owners and licensed USCG-certified captains, Boatsetter makes it easy to discover and enjoy a wide array of on-water experiences.

"For the Most Dough — See Col. Joe"

LUKE 18: 9 - 14

To some who were confident of their own righteousness and looked down on everyone else, Jesus told this parable: "Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee stood by himself and prayed: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other people—robbers, evildoers, adulterers - or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get.'

"But the tax collector stood at a distance. He would not even look up to heaven, but beat his breast and said, 'God, have mercy on me, a sinner.' "I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For all those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."

Do fish get cold?
 • Yes, fish are very sensitive to changes in water temperature. So much so, in fact, that even a few degrees difference can sometimes kill them. Fish definitely get cold, the question is what "cold" means to them.
 • All fish species have a preferred range of water temperature. However, it varies massively depending on where they're from. A tropical Lionfish might start shivering at around 75°, while a Northern Pike would get heatstroke in water that hot. Both these guys are incredibly hardy, they're just built for different conditions.
 • The thing to remember about fish is that they're (mostly) cold-blooded. They don't have any way of warming themselves up. And on top of that, heat transfers much more quickly in water than in air. However, fish have developed a few tricks to make it through those long winter nights.
 • Migrate - by traveling until they find warmer waters
 • Hibernate (or torpor) - which is a very deep sleep, slowing their bodies and some even bury themselves in mud to keep warm.
 • Innovate - some fish have adapted to very cold waters; while others are actually able to warm their blood.

PSALM 34: 14 - 22

Turn from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it. The eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears are attentive to their cry; but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil, to blot out their name from the earth.

The righteous cry out, and the Lord hears them; he delivers them from all their troubles. The Lord is close to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit. The righteous person may have many troubles, but the Lord delivers him from them all; he protects all his bones, not one of them will be broken. Evil will slay the wicked; the foes of the righteous will be condemned. The Lord will rescue his servants; no one who takes refuge in him will be condemned.

Christmas

A Celebration of Christ

"But the angel said to her, 'Do not be afraid, Mary, you have found favor with God. You will be with child and give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus. He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever; his kingdom will never end.'" Luke 1: 30 - 33

"For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16

"And she brought forth her firstborn Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn. Now there were in the same country shepherds living out in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were greatly afraid. Then the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which will be to all people. For there is born to you this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be the sign to you: you will find a Babe wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying: 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men!'" - Luke 2:7-14

The Upper Cumberland's Marketplace Since 1995

Flattery is alright, if you don't inhale.
- Adlai Stevenson

Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened.
- Dr. Suess

"Nine-one-one is the national number to use in the event of an emergency. When we use it, we know someone is there who will come to our rescue. Though we have heard stories of the misuse of that number and reports of incompetent responders answering calls of people in a crisis, it is comforting to know that help is available. Psalm ninety-one and verse one is a number for Christians to "re-call" when there is a need for assurance and reassurance. It firmly states that our God is on guard and "standing by to guide us through the crises of life. The word "dwells" is such an important word for us to understand. It invites the believer "to remain, stay, tarry, endure, and find peace in one's abode." It suggests continuance and permanence. It is a place where God's people can "live" - forever. How comforting it is to know that our God is a "shelter" and a "refuge" in times of life's storms. For the Christian, He is our dwelling place for life. Shortly after a submarine had been commissioned, the commanding officer took it to sea. It was to undergo various tests to make certain that it was trustworthy and ready for service. Shortly after leaving the christening he gave the order to "submerge." Several days later after he returned to shore, the reporters besieged him with many questions. Asked one, "How did the storms affect you?" "Storms? What storms?" he replied. "We were not aware of any storms. We were dwelling in a safe and secure place in the valleys between the ocean's mountains." What comfort we have when we dwell in God.

It's believed that the word chortle was coined by author Lewis Carroll as a combination of chuckle and snort.

Better-For-You Baking With Whole Grain Nutrition

(NAPSA)—According to the USDA dietary guidelines, Americans should make at least half of their grains whole grains. Making it easier to follow these guidelines are two new products that let you add whole wheat nutrition to your diet without sacrificing flavor, texture or color.

Ultragrain® All-Purpose Flour with Whole Grain tastes and bakes like refined white flour, but is the only all-purpose flour blended with 30 percent Ultragrain whole wheat, giving it 9 grams of whole grain per serving and twice the fiber of other all-purpose flours.

Ultragrain® 100% White Whole Wheat Flour has 100 percent whole grain nutrition with the taste, texture and appearance of refined flour, but with 30 grams of whole grain per serving and four and a half times the fiber of refined flour. They both provide more dietary fiber and protein with fewer calories and carbohydrates than refined wheat flour.

Try this delicious whole grain cookie recipe or use a whole wheat flour in one of your family's favorites.

Soft and chewy chocolate chip cookies can be made even better with whole wheat flour.

salt in medium bowl; set aside. Cream butter, brown sugar and granulated sugar in large bowl with electric mixer on medium speed 1 to 2 minutes or until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla, beating until well blended. Gradually add flour mixture beating on low speed after each addition. Stir in chocolate morsels. Drop cookie dough by rounded tablespoons onto baking sheets, 1½ inches apart. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. Serve warm or remove to wire rack and cool completely.

Baking Tips

•An easy way to add more whole grain nutrition to your favorite recipes is to substitute the same amount of a whole wheat blend of all-purpose flour for standard all-purpose flour. Your baked goods will still be delicious yet more nutritious and your family won't notice the difference.

•For more whole grain goodness, simply mix ¼ cup of a 100% White Whole Wheat Flour with ¾ cup traditional white flour for every cup of flour called for in your recipes. Gradually replace more white flour with whole wheat flour until your recipe has the consistency and flavor that you prefer.

Dear Friends: God love you and I feel led to share some thoughts with you about Jesus. Jesus paid the greatest price on Calvary's cross, and opened the door to a life with no end. Jesus brought life, Satan brought death. If the death angle knocks at your door today, is your heart fixed on God? Jesus said, "If you love me keep my commandments." I've worked for Jesus most of my life. Jesus Christ is everything, nothing can replace Him in our lives. May God bless everyone that reads this. - Evangelist Lincoln Sanders 931-304-6319.

REVELATION 12: 7 - 11

Then war broke out in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. But he was not strong enough, and they lost their place in heaven. The great dragon was hurled down - that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him. Then I heard a loud voice in heaven say: "Now have come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Messiah. For the accuser of our brothers and sisters, who accuses them before our God day and night, has been hurled down. They triumphed over him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony;...

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me. Rejoice and be glad, because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

 One of the most fascinating properties we have brought to the auction block, this sprawling 283 +/- acres offers mature timber, gorgeous lakeviews and 3 miles of Army Corp of Engineers boundary line. Situated at the end of Hunter Barn Ridge Rd. in both Kentucky and Tennessee this recreational retreat is loaded with wildlife and has been admired by locals for decades. A recent timber cruise was performed, with an astonishing total of 2.2 million bd. ft. of standing hardwood timber. This property has miles of roads and trails allowing you to inspect every aspect this tract has to offer including an active oil and gas lease with 1/8 of the production royalties payable to the landowner. Rarely do you find a property of this magnitude offered as 1 tract including the timber, allowing the new owner to capitalize on its potential or be passed down to future generations!

Why You Should Schedule A Comprehensive Eye Exam

(NAPSA)—Some eye diseases have no warning signs until damage has been done, but vision loss may be minimized if diseases are detected and treated early.

That's why comprehensive eye exams are essential to maintaining eye health and catching problems before symptoms occur.

Approximately 11 million Americans live with macular degeneration, which damages central vision and is a leading cause of legal blindness. Yet many people have never heard of the condition until they are diagnosed.

To reduce your risk of vision loss, see your eye doctor regularly.

About 3 million Americans have some form of glaucoma, which affects side vision and can lead to blindness if not treated. An estimated half of these individuals aren't aware they have the disease.

"These statistics are one reason BrightFocus Foundation is offering free resources to help protect sight," says Stacy Pagos Haller, BrightFocus President.

She notes that a comprehensive eye exam is more than the eye chart used to test sight at distances. It also involves pupil dilation that allows the doctor to see signs of disease, and tonometry to measure eye fluid pressure, helpful in detecting glaucoma.

Comprehensive exams are particularly important for those at risk for vision diseases, including:

- Persons with a family history of glaucoma;
- Persons over age 60;
- Hispanics; and
- African Americans over age 40.

Ask your doctor how often you should schedule exams, based on your family history and risk factors.

BrightFocus offers resources in English and Spanish:

- Download or request the pocket card, Top Five Questions to Ask Your Eye Doctor.
- View Find an Eye Doctor directories to locate one near you.
- Order brochures on glaucoma and macular degeneration.

To access these resources, visit www.brightfocus.org/eye-health, or call (800) 437-2423.

BrightFocus Foundation is a nonprofit organization supporting innovative research worldwide and promoting public awareness to end macular degeneration, glaucoma, and Alzheimer's disease.

Prepare for the Holidays

by Lisa Luck

The end of the year is rapidly approaching. This is the time of year when shopping increases – and so does the amount of trash we discard. As we prepare for the upcoming holiday season, rather than making a list of items to purchase, how about making a list of items that should not be purchased? This will reduce the amount of money we spend and also reduce the amount of harm done to the environment.

Serving a meal for family and friends? Avoiding plastics will be an easy way to decrease the amount of waste generated over a meal. Start with the table. A cloth tablecloth can be washed and reused rather than a plastic one that will be thrown away after one use. Use your regular plates, glasses, cups and flatware instead of buying flimsy plastic substitutes that don't hold up even for that one meal. Rinse the dishes after the meal and let them rest in the sink until you are ready to wash them. They won't go anywhere. This will keep a lot of plastic waste out of the landfill – and out of your body. Avoid serving beverages in plastic bottles as they pollute the earth.

Buying holiday decorations? A really fun project is to ask the children or artists in a family to share their artful expertise. This will bring items of interest to the table that can be shared and distributed after the event. Natural materials such as dried flowers, colorful leaves, ivy or fresh greenery can decorate the table instead of using plastic figurines and fake plastic flowers.

Considering buying a new outfit to wear? Consider using one that you already have. Fast fashion is increasing the emissions that are accumulating in the atmosphere and warming the planet. Many of the new clothes are made with plastic fibers that slough off as microfibers when they are washed or dried. These enter our water systems and water treatment filters cannot detect them. Water with microfibers are returned to our water source. The dryer propels plastic particles into the air and we breathe them into our lungs or ingest them as particles settle on food in the garden.

Plan to clean your house for company? Instead of conventional cleaners, use homemade cleaners such as vinegar, baking soda and castile soap. Cleaners with a warning on the bottle contain materials that can be harmful if inhaled. Inside pollution is frequently worse than outdoor pollution after a home has been cleaned with these toxic cleaners. Some guests are allergic to strong cleaners and may have allergic reactions to the smells.

What's for dinner? Buy food locally whenever possible to reduce the carbon footprint from your purchases. Buy fresh poultry or other meats locally at the Farmer's Market or natural food stores to avoid supporting meat raising farms where animals are frequently kept in captivity and overcrowded. Fresh is best!

Consider sharing an event as a gift rather than buying a thing. Less is more. Enjoy the holiday season!

There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens: a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace.

Five Ways To Safely Celebrate With Your Pet This Holiday Season

by Dr. Whitney Miller, DVM, MBA, DACVPM

(NAPS)—Most pet parents agree: their animals are part of what makes the holiday season so magical. While it's an excellent opportunity to integrate furry family members into all the special holiday traditions and make memories together, there are a few things you should keep in mind to keep your pet safe and healthy throughout the festivities:

- Opt for pet-friendly decorations: Many favorite holiday decorations need to be kept out of pets' reach. Mistletoe, pine needles, ivy garland, holly, lilies and poinsettias can be toxic to pets when consumed. This is why I recommend artificial Christmas trees to those with particularly curious pets that like to chew on plants. If you don't choose an artificial tree, it's important to note that some water additives for real trees can be toxic, so you should make sure your pet can't access this water source. When decorating your tree, it's best to avoid tinsel and breakable ornaments to prevent potential hazards, and you should always secure your tree to prevent a climbing cat from tipping it over.
- Keep pets warm and dry: As the weather gets colder, pets may need a few extra layers to stay comfortable and safe while outdoors. Booties can help prevent a pup's paws from getting ice in them and offer protection from salt-treated walkways. At home, use pet-safe ice melt rather than salt, which can be irritating to pets' paws, mouths and stomachs. You can keep them feeling warm and looking stylish on winter adventures with sweaters and jackets such as the Reddy Black Puffer and the Reddy Colorblock Dog Sweater. A cozy handwarmer lead will help keep you warm as well while you're out and about. When you return home, always dry off their coats and paws to remove debris and ice clumps in fur and between paw pads.
- Choose and wrap gifts wisely: If you're one of the nearly 80% of pet parents who, according to the 2022 Petco consumer survey of 1,000 U.S. dog and cat parents, plan to include pets in holiday gifting, make sure pets only have access to and open presents while supervised so they don't ingest any paper or tape. I recommend sticking to wrapping paper for pet gifts, as ribbons, bows and accessories can be dangerous when ingested. Whether you're buying advent calendars, apparel or toys for your pet, Petco's holiday stockings offer an easy and pet-safe "wrapping" option that you

Heed these hints for a happier holiday for you and your pet.

- can use year after year.
- Be aware of toxic holiday foods: Common holiday foods such as chocolate, turkey skin and bones, ham, grapes and raisins, garlic, caffeine, alcohol, onions, certain spices and sweets, especially any containing xylitol, should be avoided. For festive pet-safe foods, Petco has a variety of sweet and savory dog treats just for the holidays. If you think your pet has accidentally ingested a toxic food or other material, contact your veterinarian or the Pet Poison Helpline immediately.
- Prioritize pet health and wellness: Involving pets in holiday traditions can mean taking them along for a road trip, introducing them to new people or staying in unfamiliar environments—all things that can cause anxiety in pets. It's important to keep your pet's mental health top of mind during the holiday season and year-round. When possible, pets should be introduced to new people and pets in a neutral environment, individually and at their own pace. For pets that experience anxiety in the car, practicing with short drives or sitting in the car while parked, followed by treats and positive reinforcement, can help the adjustment and prepare them for a long ride. Calming products can help mitigate anxiety in pets, and you can also consult your veterinarian for anxiety or motion sickness treatments to help make travel easier. Training in advance of any holiday plans is also a good idea, and Petco offers both in-person and online training options at stores.petco.com/training.

The Customer

Has this happened to you recently?: You complete your purchase at a store, the cashier hands you your receipt, and says "there you go," or "have a good one," or "have a nice day," but does not say "Thank You." This is becoming a very common experience in most retail stores and other businesses in our country.

Attitudes of workers are often unfriendly or deadpan at best. Many workers in retail stores of all kinds, restaurants, and many other types of businesses have either forgotten, or just don't care that their paychecks depend upon the customers who spend their money with those businesses. Failing to tell your customers "Thank You" for doing business with you is the equivalent of telling them that you don't care and that you don't value them.

Part of the blame for this failure to appreciate customers lies directly with the management of businesses. If managers don't insist that their employees thank their customers, then these managers are assisting the problem. I believe that it is an indicator of a declining work ethic in our country. Too many parents allow their children to grow up thinking that the world owes them something, that the world owes them a good living. Many children are not even required to earn their own money at a job by the time they graduate from high school, and in some cases by the time they graduate from college. Mom and Dad just give them money, and don't require their children to work for it. It's no wonder that they don't know how to be good employees when they are adults.

NEWS FLASH: The world owes us nothing! We are not automatically entitled to a good living just because we are Americans. Do you want to make a good living? Work hard, invest in learning new job skills, invest in furthering your education, and above all, BE THANKFUL! Teach your children to be thankful for what they have, and stop complaining about all the things that they don't have. Teach them to ask "please" and say "thank you" to everyone who does even the smallest favor to them. We Americans live in the greatest country in the world, and we need to all be thankful for that.

To every working person in America I give this challenge: ALWAYS say "Thank You" to your customers. Let no one receive your products or services without hearing those important words on a regular basis. Your customers do not have to do business with you. They choose to spend their money with you. Always remember that, even when your having a bad day. With all the challenges of making a living these days, ALWAYS remember this: no matter what kind of work you do: without customers, no one has a job.

PSALM 145: 8 - 9, 13 - 18

The Lord is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and rich in love. The Lord is good to all; he has compassion on all he has made...

The Lord is trustworthy in all he promises and faithful in all he does. The Lord upholds all who fall and lifts up all who are bowed down. The eyes of all look to you, and you give them their food at the proper time. You open your hand and satisfy the desires of every living thing. The Lord is righteous in all his ways and faithful in all he does. The Lord is near to all who call on him, to all who call on him in truth.
