The Breath of Life

“Put on all of God’s armor so that you will be able to stand firm against all strategies of the devil. For we are not fighting against flesh-and-blood enemies, but against evil rulers and authorities of the unseen world, against mighty powers in this dark world, and against evil spirits in the heavenly places. Therefore, put on every piece of God’s armor so you will be able to resist the enemy in the time of evil. Then after the battle you will still be standing firm. Stand your ground, putting on the belt of truth and the body armor of God’s righteousness. For shoes, put on the peace that comes from the Good News so that you will be fully prepared. In addition to all of these, hold up the shield of faith to stop the fiery arrows of the devil. Put on salvation as your helmet, and take the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.”

Ephesians 6: 11-17 (NLT)

MATTHEW 5: 6 - 11

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me.

seeds of Hope

"The mind has a mind of its own. Occasionally, it takes little trips and goes on interesting journeys that bring back memories from long ago. Memories that are both pleasant and painful. Memories that are both welcomed and worrisome. Memories that must have been stored there by God to help us remember His mercy and, at times, His judgment. Psalm 77 is very egocentric. Take time, if you will, and count the number of times the personal pronoun "I" occurs. It is rather amazing. It begins with the writer carefully reviewing many instances of feeling forsaken and abandoned by God. He writes of calling for help - but no voice responded. His eyes would not close - and he was reminded of tragedies he wanted to forget. He felt rejected and unloved and even gave up on God ever being faithful or kind to him again. Then, suddenly, his mind called things to a halt. God seemed to awaken him and he said, "I will remember the deeds of the Lord; yes I will remember Your miracles of long ago. I will meditate on all Your works and consider all Your mighty deeds." Our minds do wander and walk through dark valleys filled with deep sorrows and painful valleys. And when it does, it only takes a moment, if we choose to turn things around and change the shadows and sorrows and valleys in to sunlight and smiles and mountain tops. God did this for the Psalmist. He wants to do the same for us: recall His miracles in our lives that give us eternal hope.

Hints To Help You Have A Better New Year

(NAPS)—The holidays have ended, and a new year has begun—a time when many embrace a fresh start by setting New Year's resolutions.

This year, why not consider solutions rather than resolutions? The distinction is small but important—acting versus thinking. Mental health professionals think it's a better way forward into 2025.

Expert Advice

Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner Elizabeth Johnson believes that the resolution mindset is an obstacle to action. "When we get stuck in our new year's resolutions, part of it is just that we've gotten stuck in the process, stuck in the details, stuck in the weeds if you will," Johnson said. "It's struggling with 'coulda, woulda, shoulda' thinking patterns and reasons why maybe we haven't been able to follow through and stick to those resolutions."

Johnson recommends a new approach for her patients—and for us: simpler, concrete solutions with measurable results.

"Instead of setting a big resolution to try to lose 25 pounds, maybe setting a simple solution to reduce drinking soda to one can a day," she offers. "For some, that's quite a goal and quite a change, but it's simple and it's achievable and it's measurable."

Solutions can also mean an increased focus on your mental health. For those suffering from mental health conditions such as major depressive disorder, setting and attaining goals can seem even more overwhelming. One important step for 2025 could be to find a mental health professional. Or, if you're already taking medication for depression, anxiety or ADHD and still struggling, it may be helpful to talk to your clinician about the GeneSight test.

The GeneSight Psychotropic test analyzes how your genes may affect your outcomes with medications commonly prescribed to treat depression, anxiety, ADHD, and other mental health conditions. The GeneSight Psychotropic test provides clinicians with information about which medications may require dose adjustments, may be less likely to work, or may have an increased risk of side effects based on a patient's genetic makeup. Along with a complete assessment of clinical and patient specific factors, Johnson uses the GeneSight test to help inform her medication treatment decision making.

If you struggle with mental health issues, a simple test can help your clinician if they are considering medication as a course of treatment.

"The GeneSight test is imperative to me as a clinician," says Johnson, "but also a game changer to my patients. When I'm working with a patient, often multiple medications have failed them, and they are sick of feeling like a guinea pig."

Johnson concludes, "The GeneSight test offers me a little bit more of a road-way to making a medication choice. And when you are anxious or depressed, lost, any light bulb, any hope, is such a blessing in that moment."

Prioritize your well-being—Physical and Mental

As we step into a new year, prioritize your well-being—both physical and mental. Explore solutions that help you thrive and achieve your goals, moving beyond the usual resolutions for lasting success.

JOEL 2: 28 - 32

"And afterward, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days. I will show wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and billows of smoke. The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord. And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved;..."

Proudly offering this classic 3 bedroom, 2.5 bathroom well built 2 story home situated on 4.72 Acres in Byrdstown, TN. The home offers approximately 2,100 sqft of living area and boasts a full drive out basement. The main floor features a large living room, an eat-in kitchen and master suite. The large, attached 2 car garage has additional storage space. The second story has 2 bedrooms and 1 bathroom plus a bonus room as an added feature. The full basement is a must see...! Poured concrete walls with walk out and drive out options. This home appears to be very well built but has had recent neglect so it will need updates and repairs. The 4.72 acres is mostly open with some mature trees. It is moderately sloping and has a pond. It will sell according to a recent survey. The property is well located just short drive to Wolf River and Dale Hollow Lake as well as convenient to Hwy 111 near the TN/KY state line.

It is true, as Mark Twain said, that "under certain circumstances, profanity provides relief denied even to prayer."

We all have colorful words on hand for stubbed toes, moments of bewilderment and emphatic exclamations. But how much does dirty language really belong in everyday conversations with ourselves and others?

Each word that we speak carries with it an inherent vibrational frequency. High vibrational language tends to leave people feeling happy, cared for and understood. Lower-frequency jargon can lead to feelings of belittlement, hurt or possible offense — even when the words are not intentionally directed at us.

Whether you're hanging around impressionable children, conversing in work environments or looking to save money from the "swear jar," it is valuable to keep a few cleaned-up terms in your back pocket for those four-letter-word life moments. Shake up conversations, expand your vocabulary and elevate your language with these 50 swear-word alternatives:

2 CORINTHIANS 5: 16 - 20
So from now on we regard no one from a worldly point of view. Though we once regarded Christ in this way, we do so no longer. Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here! All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting people's sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. We are therefore Christ's ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us.

Mom's Ground Turkey and Peppers

PREP TIME	COOK TIME	TOTAL TIME
15 mins	15 mins	30 mins

SERVINGS
4 servings

NOTE: The method given is my mother's "one pan" approach, because she's only cooking up one pound of ground turkey, enough for 4 people. If you are increasing this ground turkey recipe to serve more people, you may want to remove the vegetables after they've cooked and set them aside as you cook the turkey meat, or cook the meat and the vegetables in two separate skillet.

Ingredients

- 3 to 4 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- 1 cup chopped yellow onion
- Some chopped greens from green onions, if you have any
- 1 bell pepper (red or yellow preferred), chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- Kosher salt
- 1 pound ground turkey, preferably ground turkey thighs
- 1 teaspoon chipotle powder or chili powder (or to taste)
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley or cilantro

1. Sauté the onions, bell pepper, and garlic:
Heat 2 tablespoons olive oil in a large skillet on medium high heat. Add the chopped onions and bell pepper and cook until onions and peppers are softened, a couple minutes. Add the garlic and cook 30 seconds more.
2. Add ground turkey, salt, and chipotle chili powder:
Push the vegetables to the edge of one side of the pan and position that side of the pan so that it is off the burner, away from the heat. The empty part of the pan should be right over the burner. Add one or two more tablespoons of oil to coat the empty part of the pan. Put crumpled chunks of ground turkey in the pan, sprinkle with salt and chipotle or chili powder.
3. Brown the turkey, then stir in the peppers and onions:
Cook the turkey without stirring until it is browned on one side, then turn the pieces over to brown the other side. Once the turkey is just cooked through, stir in the onions and peppers, and sprinkle with more salt and chili powder to taste. Remove from heat. Stir in fresh chopped parsley or cilantro.

Serve alone, or with steamed rice or noodles.

"Be careful not to practice your righteousness in front of others to be seen by them. If you do, you will have no reward from your Father in heaven. "So when you give to the needy, do not announce it with trumpets, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and on the streets, to be honored by others. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward in full. But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your giving may be in secret. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you."

OUT OF SIGHT OUT OF MIND

Most of us have heard the expression "Out of Sight, Out of Mind." This expression applies to many different situations in life. In many situations, it means that if we don't see something happening, read about it, or see it on TV or online, then we don't think about it. Sometimes this situation can be good, and sometimes it can be harmful. It can keep us from having to view or hear about things that are harmful to our lives, but it can also isolate us from things that are happening in the world that need our attention and action.

We all need to be aware of people who need our help and attention. God created us to need each other. To be focused only on ourselves and not also on other people will grow selfishness in our hearts. It will make us self centered. This is a basic truth that applies to each of us: the world does not revolve around me, and it does not revolve around you. God created us to be givers, not takers.

Instead of being self centered, we need to be God centered. He blesses us so that we can bless others. Being focused outside of our own personal space enables us to see the people around us who need help. It can be people in our own community, our state, our nation, or other nations of the world. All of us can do something to help people in need. First, we need to pray for them. Second, we need to take action to help their actual situation. We can donate some amount of money (any amount), and we can give our time and labor to help make someone's difficult situation get better. We can also offer encouragement and spend time visiting with people or simply calling them on the phone. Showing people that we care can make a world of difference in their lives. Whatever it is, all of us need to help others. Our actions will show our love and compassion for others. So, don't be "Out of Sight, Out of Mind." Show your love for others by what you do for them.

"Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit. Rather, in humility value others above yourselves, not looking to your own interests but each of you to the interests of others."

- Philippians 2: 3 - 4

Plastic: Reduce, Reuse, Recycle by Lisa Luck

There are no quick fixes for the plastic problem. It is a persistent problem and increases with every bottle of water or soda we consume, every article of clothing we buy made from plastic fibers, every grocery bag in which we carry groceries home, and every piece of packaging that hold our preferred products. The plastic has accumulated in the natural environment. We eat, drink and absorb it through our skin so it accumulates in our bodies, too.

The best solution for preventing additional plastic waste is to reduce the amount of plastic you use. With a few minor changes in one's day-to-day routine, dependence on plastic can be reduced. The tactics used for managing plastic waste include recycling, reusing, replacing and refusing. The best of these is to refuse. That is almost impossible in the world in which we live because plastic is so pervasive.

In larger municipalities, many grocery stores have recycling containers near the front door to collect plastic bags and plastic wrap. Walmart, Kroger and Publix collect the following: plastic bags including grocery and retail bags, Ziplock bags, produce or bread bags, dry cleaning and newspaper sleeves. They also accept package overwrap for products such as toilet paper, napkins, paper towels, bulk snack outer wrappings and plastic food liners. Plastic materials such as shipping envelopes, bubble wrap and air pillows (deflated) can also be recycled. All plastic materials must be clean and dry.

Publix has a recycling container to collect Styrofoam such as packing peanuts and egg cartons. Styrofoam packing peanuts can also be taken to any shipping hub such as the post office or other shipping companies. Plastic planting pots can be donated to local gardeners. They must be in good condition so they can be reused. Medicine bottles can be recycled at local pharmacies.

Seeking a recycling solution for the plastics we cannot avoid is a great thing to do. This keeps plastics out of the environment and out of the landfill, at least temporarily. However, recycling is not the best solution for reducing plastic waste. Replacing plastics with other materials that biodegrade is a better solution. Biodegradable and compostable bags made from plant starch can be purchased online. Instead of degrading and spilling into waterways and polluting the ocean, they will decompose. A search online for ecofriendly products can help guide you in finding environmentally friendly replacements for preferred products.

Instead of using single use plastics, replace them with products made from stainless steel or other lasting materials that will last a lifetime. Replace plastic thermos, water bottles and even straws. Avoid Styrofoam by taking your own to-go container to restaurants. Take your own coffee cup to avoid Styrofoam cups – which are not recyclable and are toxic. Hot beverages cause microplastics to be released and then consumed.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that 45% of the waste that is discarded in landfills is packaging. Most of that can be managed by recycling. Reduce plastic waste to protect our health and the environment.

NEW ADVOCATES TRAINING In Putnam County

Interested in becoming a Special Advocate volunteer for children in Putnam County? CASA of the Tennessee Valley has flexible, one-on-one training for new volunteers to become Court Appointed Special Advocates in juvenile court for children who have been abused or neglected. These volunteers advocate for the best interests of the child with the goal of securing a safe, and permanent, loving home. Tennessee state law allows for judges to appoint CASA volunteers to "speak up" for the child's best interests. Most CASA volunteers advocate for only one child, or family of children, at a time.

Open Hearts Can Open Doors

Youth Villages is a private, nonprofit organization dedicated to helping children with emotional and behavioral problems and their families live successfully.

We provide direct help to thousands of children and families each year; partner with innovative states and high-performing nonprofit organizations that use our effective program models; and advocate for positive change to child welfare systems around the country.

Our approach involves intensive work with the child and family; a focus on measuring outcomes; keeping children in the community whenever safely possible; and providing accountability to families and funders. The Youth Villages approach produces lasting, positive change for children.

While we help children from birth to age 22, the majority of the children who receive services from Youth Villages are between 12 and 17.

Children come to us because of emotional and behavioral disorders, physical or sexual abuse, substance abuse, or suicidal ideation or attempt. Our LifeSet program is a bridge from foster care to successful adulthood for young people who have experienced foster care.

More than 85% of Youth Villages children have multiple problems, which may include developmental or learning disabilities, as well as family issues and instability.
