The Breath of Life

"Keep reminding God's people of these things. Warn them before God against quarreling about words; it is of no value, and only ruins those who listen. Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth. Avoid godless chatter, because those who indulge in it will become more and more ungodly. Their teaching will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, who have departed from the truth. They say that the resurrection has already taken place, and they destroy the faith of some. Nevertheless, God's solid foundation stands firm, sealed with this inscription: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Everyone who confesses the name of the Lord must turn away from wickedness."

2 Timothy
2:14-19

"The word is near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart," that is, the message concerning faith that we proclaim: If you declare with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you profess your faith and are saved. As Scripture says, "Anyone who believes in him will never be put to shame." For there is no difference between Jew and Gentile - the same Lord is Lord of all and richly blesses all who call on him, for, "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."

But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

After he said this, he was taken up before their very eyes, and a cloud hid him from their sight.

They were looking intently up into the sky as he was going, when suddenly two men dressed in white stood beside them. "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven."

Fun Facts About Sheep:

- ⇒ Extraordinary Vision & Hearing: Sheep have rectangular pupils that provide excellent peripheral vision, allowing them to see behind themselves without turning their heads.
- ⇒ Intelligent & Emotional: They can solve mazes, express emotions like fear, anger, and joy, and form deep bonds with other sheep, even grieving the loss of friends.
- ⇒ Unique Mouth Structure: Lacking upper front teeth, they have a hard dental pad instead. A split in their upper lip (philtrum) allows them to graze very close to the ground.
- ⇒ Excellent Memory & Recognition: Sheep can recognize 50 other sheep faces and remember them for up to two years. They can even distinguish between human smiles and frowns.
- ⇒ Self-Medication: Sheep are known to change their diet if they are sick, selecting specific plants to eat that help them feel better.
- ⇒ Communication: They use different vocalizations (bleats) to communicate, and mothers can recognize their lambs by their specific call.
- ⇒ Fast Learners: They are quick learners and can recognize their own names.
- ⇒ Unique Hooves: Sheep have scent glands between their toes that help them leave a trail for the flock.

"So you both think I need a haircut?"

Watching children grow into adulthood can be a marvelous experience. From crawling to walking, from uttering sounds that make no sense to carrying on an intelligent conversation is almost breathtaking. Growth is a gift of God and can bring blessings and happiness - especially when we grow into the likeness of Christ and share His grace with those around us. The Amplified Bible provides a rich translation of Psalm 92:14. "Growing in grace," writes the Psalmist, "they shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be full of spiritual vitality and rich in expressing trust, love and contentment." Growth, for the Christian, is a lifelong journey. And those who grow in His grace and are filled with His mercy have much to live for and share with others. Imagine the satisfaction of having lived a life that honors God's Word, lives God's gospel and expresses His love. Can there be anything more important for the Christian than becoming stronger in our faith, clearer in our convictions, warmer in our love, purer in our thoughts and kinder in our words and deeds as we grow older and more mature in Christ? We live in a broken world. Everywhere we look, we see people who have been betrayed by those whom they dearly loved and trusted. We see people writhing in pain and anguish as they search for someone to offer them hope and encouragement. We dare not let them down. What a wonderful opportunity God has given us.

Hummingbirds - Be Prepared

by Lisa Luck

Hummingbirds are fascinating birds. They are the tiniest birds in the world. The smallest hummingbird is called a Bee Hummingbird and lives only in Cuba. Each tiny bird is only about two inches long and weighs slightly less than a penny. The largest hummingbird, named Giant Hummingbird, is approximately nine inches long and it weighs less than one ounce. The Giant Hummingbird lives primarily in the Andes. Their wings beat anywhere from 15 wingbeats per second for the Giant Hummingbird and up to 80 wingbeats per second for the Bee Hummingbird. Their hearts are larger than those in other birds and can beat 1,200 times per minute. They are called hummingbirds because of the humming sound of their wings. They beat their wings in a figure-eight pattern allowing them to hover in place.

Hummingbird bones are hollow and filled with air sacs. During flight, the bird can draw needed oxygen from the bones. A hummingbird can utilize the oxygen whether it is exhaling or inhaling to optimize the speed and distance of its flight. Their amazingly quick metabolisms are powered by nectar from flowers and require them to eat every 10 to 15 minutes. They can consume up to three times their body weight each day! Between the largest and the smallest hummingbird, there are 366 species of hummingbirds that exist and live in the Western Hemisphere. Most of them live around the equator, between ten degrees north or south.

Lure hummingbirds into your garden by setting up a habitat that will provide the necessities. They enjoy multitudes of flowers especially tubular flowers. They also love bright colors. Flowers such as bee balm, salvia, fuchsia, columbine and coral honeysuckle attract hummingbirds. They also eat bugs such as mosquitoes, gnats or flies. They can help keep your garden free of pests, and it is especially important not to use pesticides or herbicides if you want to attract hummingbirds to your yard.

Hummingbirds appreciate perches in your yard where they can settle and rest for a few minutes. Place little swings made from wood and wire high enough in the yard to be out of the reach of cats and other predators, but also in easy access to feeders and flowers.

Experts suggest that you follow the local recommendations for when to set up hummingbird feeders and when to take them down each year. In Tennessee, the time to put out feeders is between March 15 and April 1 and they will stay up until migration ends, after September. Use glass feeders that can be easily cleaned. Fill the feeders with homemade sugar water to avoid the red dye contained in most commercial products. To make your own nectar, heat four cups of water and stir in one cup of white cane sugar until it is completely dissolved. Cool to room temperature before filling feeders. Store extra nectar in the refrigerator for up to two weeks. Keep feeders clean and filled until after the hummingbirds migrate back to locations where they overwinter.

"Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash."

Recipe Korner

Making Restaurant Style Quesadillas

Hot from the oven: Luscious Mexican avocados and chicken get together in a quesadilla as delicious as one you'd eat in a restaurant.

(NAPSA)—If your family loves quesadillas when you eat out, there's no need to wait until your next restaurant meal. Making these Mexican-style tortilla fold-overs at home is really easy, and you can load them with lots of good things, such as scrumptious Mexican avocados, chicken and cheese.

For authentic restaurant-style flavor, be sure to use Mexican Hass avocados—the dark green or black pebbly-skinned kind. Firm avocados should be ripened at room temperature until they're slightly soft. If they're ready before you are, just refrigerate for up to three days.

For more recipes and serving ideas, send a stamped, self-addressed, business-sized envelope to: Mexican Avocado Recipes, Lewis & Neale Inc., 49 East 21st Street, New York, NY 10010.

CHICKEN AND AVOCADO QUESADILLAS

- 2 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 2 tablespoons lime juice

- ½ teaspoon ground cumin
- 2 cups cooked, diced chicken or prepared chili or shredded barbecued beef
- 1 fully ripened Mexican avocado, pitted, peeled and cut in 1-inch cubes
- 4 flour tortillas (7 to 8 inches each)
- 1 cup shredded Jack or Pepper Jack cheese

Preheat oven to 450°F. In a medium-sized bowl, combine 1 tablespoon of the oil, the lime juice and cumin. Add chicken and avocado; toss gently. Lay tortillas on a baking sheet; brush both sides with the remaining 1 tablespoon oil. Spoon chicken and avocado mixture on one side of each tortilla, dividing evenly; top with cheese. Fold tortillas in half to cover filling. Bake until tortillas are crisp, about 8 minutes. If desired, serve with salsa or sour cream.

YIELD: 4 quesadillas

Jesus, the Rock and Foundation

Build Your Life Upon the Word of God

"Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock."

All About Cheese

According to ancient records passed down through the centuries, the making of cheese dates back more than 4,000 years. No one really knows who made the first cheese. According to an ancient legend, it was made accidentally by an Arabian merchant who put his supply of milk into a pouch made from a sheep's stomach, as he set out on a day's journey across the desert. The rennet in the lining of the pouch, combined with the heat of the sun, caused the milk to separate into curd and whey. That night he found that the whey satisfied his thirst, and the cheese (curd) had a delightful flavor which satisfied his hunger.

Travelers from Asia are believed to have brought the art of cheesemaking to Europe. In fact, cheese was made in many parts of the Roman Empire when it was at its height. The Romans, in turn, introduced cheesemaking to England. During the Middle Ages - from the decline of the Roman Empire until the discovery of America - cheese was made and improved by the monks in the monasteries of Europe. Cheesemaking continued to flourish in Europe and became an established food. In fact, the Pilgrims included cheese in the Mayflower's supplies when they made their voyage to America in 1620. The making of cheese quickly spread in the New World, but until the 19th century it remained a local farm industry. It wasn't until 1851 that the first cheese factory in the United States was built by Jesse Williams in Oneida County, New York. Rising demand for cheese in the U.S. throughout the 1970s and 1980s brought total natural cheese production to more than 6 billion pounds by the beginning of the 1990s. Currently, more than one-third of all milk produced each year in the U.S. is used to manufacture cheese.

Making cheese starts with raw milk. Fat and cream are added, and then it is pasteurized to remove any harmful bacteria. At this point, good bacteria or "starter cultures" are added to the milk. The starter cultures ferment the lactose, milk's natural sugar, into lactic acid. This process helps determine the cheese's flavor and texture. Different types of cultures are used to create different types of cheese. After the starter culture, a few other ingredients are added, including rennet and, depending on the type of cheese, color - which is why Cheddar is orange. Rennet causes the milk to gel similarly to yogurt, before the curds (the solids) separate from the whey (the liquid). Once it starts to gel, the cheesemakers cut it, which allows the whey to come out. Once the curds are cut, they're stirred and heated to release even more whey. At this point, the curd is separated from the whey. The cheese is then pressed, more whey comes out, and it eventually becomes the shape and consistency of cheeses we know.

Aging, sometimes called ripening, is the most important stage of cheese production. By allowing cheeses to rest in controlled conditions, they develop the appearance, texture, flavor, and aroma qualities that make them unique. Normally cheeses are aged under controlled conditions from a few days to several years. As a cheese ages, microbes and enzymes transform texture and intensify flavor. This transformation is largely a result of the breakdown of casein proteins and milkfat into a complex mix of amino acids, amines, and fatty acids. Today there are approximately 1,830 +/- known varieties of cheese from 74 countries around the world. They vary greatly in firmness, from the very light consistency of cottage cheese, medium firmness, and all the way to the highly dense and firm varieties.

Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength. These commandments that I give you today are to be on your hearts. Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. Tie them as symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads. Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates.

Spring Yard Work? Put Safety First

- Know your machine
- Follow manufacturer's guidance
- Don't disable, adjust or remove safety devices
- Use fresh fuel
- Use manufacturer-approved batteries
- Keep kids and pets away from working equipment

When you're gearing up for spring yard work, remember to give your mower, trimmer, and other tools a quick safety check first.

(NAPS)— While spring is the time to get out your lawn equipment to shape up your yard, before you fire up your lawn mower, trimmer, and other yard gear, the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI) reminds you to keep safety in mind. "We all want to get outside and work on our yards, but your equipment needs some attention first," says Kris Kiser, President and CEO of OPEI, an international trade association representing outdoor power equipment, small engine, utility vehicle, golf car and personal transport vehicle manufacturers and suppliers. "A little prep can go a long way in keeping things safe and running smoothly." Here are a few simple tips:

- Follow manufacturers' guidance. It sounds basic, but it's important. If you've lost the manufacturer's owner's manual, you can usually find it online.
- Inspect your equipment. Check

oil and air filters. Look for damaged or missing parts.

- Never disable, modify or remove safety devices.
- Use fresh fuel. Buy the amount of fuel you need. Never store equipment with fuel in the tank. Remember, storing fuel in hot, humid conditions will make the fuel grow stale more quickly.
- Charge batteries using an appropriate charger. Use the charger that came with your equipment and follow the manufacturer instructions. Follow their guidance on storing batteries properly.
- Clean and store equipment properly. Wipe off dirt and debris and keep your equipment in a dry spot.
- Always keep kids and pets away from operating equipment.

For more safety information about outdoor power equipment, visit www.opei.org.

Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them: "Rulers and elders of the people! If we are being called to account today for an act of kindness shown to a man who was lame and are being asked how he was healed, then know this, you and all the people of Israel: It is by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified but whom God raised from the dead, that this man stands before you healed. Jesus is "the stone you builders rejected, which has become the cornerstone."
Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to mankind by which we must be saved."
