The Breath of Life

But since you refuse to listen when I call and no one pays attention when I stretch out my hand, since you disregard all my advice and do not accept my rebuke, I in turn will laugh when disaster strikes you; I will mock when calamity overtakes you - when calamity overtakes you like a storm, when disaster sweeps over you like a whirlwind, when distress and trouble overwhelm you. "Then they will call to me but I will not answer; they will look for me but will not find me, since they hated knowledge and did not choose to fear the Lord. Since they would not accept my advice and spurned my rebuke, they will eat the fruit of their ways and be filled with the fruit of their schemes. For the waywardness of the simple will kill them, and the complacency of fools will destroy them; but whoever listens to me will live in safety and be at ease, without fear of harm."

However, as it is written: "What no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, and what no human mind has conceived" - the things God has prepared for those who love him - these are the things God has revealed to us by his Spirit.

The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. For who knows a person's thoughts except their own spirit within them? In the same way no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. What we have received is not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may understand what God has freely given us. This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, explaining spiritual realities with Spirit-taught words.

Interesting Facts About The Wind:

The wind is simply the flow or movement of air from high to low pressures. You can touch it, you can feel it, but you will never be able to store it in a box or own it.

1. Saturn and Neptune have the fastest winds in the solar system;
2. The energy of the wind has been used since 2,000 BC;
3. Winds are stronger and steadier in offshore spots;
4. Warm air is lighter than cold air;
5. Trade winds are steady winds flowing toward the equator;
6. Jet streams are powerful winds blowing about ten kilometers above the earth; they were discovered by World War II fighter pilots when they found that their speed reduced when they flew against these powerful high winds;
7. Wind chill is the cooling effect of wind on the skin;
8. The windiest place in the world is Antarctica;

"If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you - you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself."

Fear paralyzes;

- Pastor Bobby Davis

Our past does not determine our future, unless we allow it to do so. - Anonymous

A youth pastor and his "Win One Now" team were passing out tracts and talking to a group of young people in New York one Saturday evening. A gang leader went up to him and shouted, "I'm sick and tired of you people talking about love. I've never seen love so if you've got it let me see it!" How many others want to see "it?" We talk about love, sing about love, preach about love but the world is still trying to find out what love looks like. Someone once said they wanted to see "love with skin on it." And that's what God's love is all about. He did not speak of an empty, greedy love - but a love that passes all human understanding. The Psalmist said that "The Lord has made His salvation known." By God's faithfulness to protect and provide for the well-being of the Children of Israel "He made His salvation known and revealed His righteousness to the nations." He made His salvation known by His faithfulness and the fulfillment of His covenant with His children. That was then. This is now. Years ago God sent His only begotten Son to be born in a manger, live a sinless life, die on a cross and then be resurrected from a borrowed tomb. Once again He made "His salvation known." This is His love that we can see: it is "love with skin on it." If the world cannot see this love, we who are His disciples have only ourselves to blame. All around us are people waiting and wanting to see "love with skin on it."

The horsetail is sometimes called scouring rush because it was once used to polish metal. All parts of the plant contain silica, an abrasive material.

And hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us. You see, at just the right time, when we were still powerless, Christ died for the ungodly. Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous person, though for a good person someone might possibly dare to die. But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.

Since we have now been justified by his blood, how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath through him!

Greek Island Chicken Shish Kebabs

INGREDIENTS

- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1/4 cup white vinegar
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces
- 6 wooden skewers
- 2 large green or red bell peppers, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 large onion, quartered and separated into pieces
- 12 fresh mushrooms
- 12 cherry tomatoes

These Greek Island chicken shish kebabs offer a delightful alternative to ordinary grilled chicken. They are excellent served with pita bread, garlicky tzatziki, and a Greek salad. Lamb can be substituted for chicken, and various vegetables can be used in its place.

DIRECTIONS

Whisk olive oil, lemon juice, vinegar, garlic, cumin, oregano, thyme, salt, and black pepper together in a large glass or ceramic bowl. Add chicken and toss to evenly coat. Cover the bowl with plastic wrap; marinate in the refrigerator for at least 2 hours.

Meanwhile, soak wooden skewers in water for at least 30 minutes.

Preheat an outdoor grill for medium-high heat and lightly oil the grate.

Remove chicken from marinade and shake off excess. Discard remaining marinade. Thread chicken onto the skewers, alternating with bell peppers, onion, mushrooms, and tomatoes.

Cook skewers on preheated grill, turning frequently, until nicely browned on all sides, and meat is no longer pink in the center, about 10 minutes. An instant-read thermometer inserted into the center should read at least 165 degrees F (74 degrees C).

"For I will take you out of the nations; I will gather you from all the countries and bring you back into your own land. I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your impurities and from all your idols. I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit in you and move you to follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. Then you will live in the land I gave your ancestors; you will be my people, and I will be your God. I will save you from all your uncleanness.

Innocent Love

A six-year-old boy told his father he wanted to marry the little girl across the street. The father, being modern and well-schooled in handling children, hid his smile behind his hand.

"That's a serious step," he said. "Have you thought it out completely?"

"Yes," his young son answered. "We can spend one week in my room and the next in hers. It's right across the street, so I can run home if I get scared of the dark."

"How about transportation?" The father asked.

"I have my wagon, and we both have our tricycles," the little boy answered. The boy had an answer to every question the father raised.

Finally, in exasperation, his dad asked, "What about babies? When you're married, you're liable to have babies, you know."

"We've thought about that, too," the little boy replied. "We're not going to have babies. Every time she lays an egg, I'm going to step on it!"

"Kind words can be short and easy to speak, but their echoes are truly endless." - Mother Theresa

Reducing Electrical Use
by Lisa Luck

According to the U.S. Energy Information Administration, utility prices have risen by approximately thirteen percent in the last three years. Prices will continue to rise as aging grids require updates, repairs and as the demand for electricity increases. As utility costs rise, there is less money in the household to pay for other necessities. Dollars must be stretched each month and optional expenses eliminated. Environmentally, using less and shopping less is best. One way to reduce spending – which is also environmentally sound – is to reduce the amount of power we use in our homes. Using less energy is a win for both a household and the environment.

The systems that heat or cool your home, water heaters and refrigerators use the most energy. Heating and cooling are 50 to 60% of a household utility bill. Approximately 16% of the utility bill comes from water heaters. Refrigerators are about 7% of the annual cost. Plan ahead for when these large systems have to be replaced and choose products that are the most energy efficient. Energy Star certified appliances result in less spending on utility bills and have better results.

Raising or lowering the temperature on the thermostat by a degree or two won't make a big difference as far as comfort. Putting on a sweater or taking off an over shirt can make up that difference. It will, however, make a difference in your power bill. Each degree that you raise or lower the temperature will affect your bill by 1 to 3% annually. Adjusting the thermostat by just two or three degrees will make a noticeable difference in your bill. It is recommended that the thermostat be set at 68 degrees in the winter and 78 degrees in the summer. Circulating the air with a ceiling or box fan will make the air feel cooler but costs less. Dress for the weather to help keep body temperature regulated.

There are other ways to reduce spending on energy. Use small appliances for heating food such as a toaster oven. Toaster ovens have a much smaller space to heat so the central air conditioner unit comes on less to compensate. Drying clothes outdoors reduces spending. Sun power is free! Drying clothes outdoors can result in a one to two hundred dollar savings per year, depending on how much you dry your clothes.

Unplug unused appliances that continue to draw power. It only takes a second to unplug a cord, but depending on how many appliances you have in your home can save up to $440 annually! In two story homes, often the upstairs in the summer stays extra hot. A small window unit can cool a small room less expensively than adjusting the thermostat downstairs.

Reducing a power bill takes little effort. Take a walk around your home and see what simple adjustments you can make to decrease your day to day energy consumption. Minor changes in power usage can save several hundred dollars annually. It is also better for the environment.

DO IT NOW

Life is very busy, and often it seems as though there is simply not enough time to get everything done. With so much to do in life, many things that we want to do get moved to the "back burner." There are so many things that we truly want to do, but we never seem to have enough time to get them done. How often have we all said, "someday I will get that done"? In many cases "someday" never comes.

Putting off doing things that are unpleasant is very easy to do. Unpleasant conversations with family or friends are some of the most common things that get pushed into the "someday" list of priorities in life. Often families and friends have fights and misunderstandings, and everyone involved in the conflict can refuse to compromise on anything, leading to anger and bitterness that can last for years. A common response to these conflicts is silence. One person holds a grudge, and refuses to even speak to others, which leads to unforgiveness and bitterness. This bitterness is infectious, and can get easily passed on to others. Someone gets offended by something said or done, and decides to withdraw, and end a relationship with a friend, brother, sister, father, or mother. What starts out as a small matter that can be resolved with a reasonable amount of effort and forgiveness, can become a huge obstacle that gets larger as time moves forward. It's easy to tell ourselves that someday we will resolve the conflicts that we have with other people, but if we don't take action on resolving our conflicts, nothing will ever change, and the wounds will keep on festering and growing.

Today is the best day to take care of the unresolved matters in our lives. We might be upset or angry with other people who aren't even aware of what they said or did to offend us. Regardless of the situation, we all have the opportunity to do our part to make our relationships with other people better. Don't let the wounds fester any longer, and don't wait until someone has died before we realize that there are things that we could have said or done that would have helped. No one is guaranteed tomorrow. Don't let anything go unresolved any longer, take care of the open wounds TODAY – DO IT NOW.

*"Yesterday is history, tomorrow is a mystery, but today is a gift.
That's why it's called the present" – Anonymous*

Therefore Jesus said again, "Very truly I tell you, I am the gate for the sheep. All who have come before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep have not listened to them. I am the gate; whoever enters through me will be saved. They will come in and go out, and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full. "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.
